

Trust Learning Centre

I was thinking a picture of the founder in the center with pictures of students on either side. I created this one for a midwifery site but I wanted you to get the idea visually

Trust Learning Centre

Offers a rich and supportive environment for children to learn, grow, and discover...

Children are naturally bright-eyed, exploratory, and inquisitive. TRUST keeps the joy of learning alive and growing. We move beyond the walls of a traditional classroom... and embrace the world as our classroom.

TRUST Learning Center provides a nurturing environment for students to pursue their own interests and passions, as well as discover new interests. With the support of trained teachers and facilitators, traditional subjects are explored in engaging ways, through hands-on projects, mentorship, and self-directed learning.

- Some of the activities at Trust have included: cooking, sewing, scientific experiments, hatching baby chicks, building a robot, nature excursions, music classes and many more....

Here is what parents and children have to say about TRUST Learning Center:

"I'm able to pursue my own interests and any hobby I like... I can take every subject and gear it towards horsemanship..."
--Kassie, Student, 12 years old

"I like that I can explore who I am..."
--Caleb, Student, 6 years old

"In public school the mentality was – just do it. At TRUST it is more guided and there are reasons why...High grades don't necessarily mean that kids know what they are doing...." --Mei-Fah, Student 13 years old

"After being home-schooled for 5 years, I felt my son would enjoy having more social bonds and creative stimulation. We found this at TRUST—and much more. He was immediately welcomed into an environment that felt like a family... and given the support to be himself, pursue his interests, and learn about a variety of subjects in colorful ways. He can be inventive and think 'outside the box.' He is prospering and flourishing at TRUST...and comes home each day eager to tell me so many rich stories about his learning, fun, discovery, and challenges!" --Amy Gallagher, Parent.

"At Trust learning Centre my children have received inspired guidance and mentorship. This is a true experience of learning to be in community and to honor and respect each person for their unique gifts."
--Nathalie Jackson, Parent.
